

Daniel P. Troiano

ASSOCIATE

Daniel Troiano's practice focuses on commercial litigation and consumer financial services litigation in state and federal courts. He represents mortgage servicers and consumer finance lenders in a wide variety of litigated matters including actions for fraud, wrongful foreclosure, breach of fiduciary duty, unfair competition, negligence, and breach of contract. His clients include automobile finance companies and financial institutions such as national and state banks, consumer finance companies, credit card issuers, credit unions, thrifts, mortgage banks and lenders, mortgage loan servicers and issuers, and other consumer financial services providers in litigation and arbitration, with a primary focus on defending mortgage lenders and loan servicers in lender liability actions.

Daniel also has experience with insurance litigation, insurance coverage, tort defense, and appellate matters. During law school, Daniel clerked for the Honorable Ken Tapscott with the Dallas County Court at Law and externed for the Honorable Elizabeth Lang-Miers of the Texas Fifth Court of Appeals.

Relevant Experience

- Obtained summary judgment for automobile liability insurance carrier in Texas federal district court in declaratory judgment lawsuit seeking recovery of punitive damages in direct action against carrier.
- Defended general liability insurance carrier against declaratory judgment lawsuit in Texas state court for defense costs arising out of a construction defect lawsuit, settling for significantly less than the cost of obtaining summary judgment.
- Obtained unanimous jury verdict for defendant in Dallas County in motor vehicle collision lawsuit.
- Obtained dismissal of multiple appeals to the Texas Fifth Court of Appeals arising out of state court defamation and premises liability lawsuits.
